

Name _____

Period _____

Daily Photo Study

Question of the day _____

Answer: _____

_____
_____
_____
_____

Before any discussion begins, draw a "stick figure" copy of the picture below.

PICK UP

PHONES IN VAULT
USE CLASS #

Why would it ever make sense to display some measure of courage when your own safety would be at risk?

What does it feel like to be courageous?

Title of photograph-

Chinese Protester Stops a Column of tanks, 6/4/89

Photographer-

Stuart Franklin

On June 4th 1989, the Chinese government sent tanks into Tiananmen Square to put an end to a seven week protest where students demanded freedom and democracy. The number of casualties is unknown.

This lone, unidentified figure stopped a column of tanks for six minutes before others pulled him out of harms way.