RE: TRANSFERS TO MOUNTAIN VIEW HIGH SCHOOL AND ROCKY MOUNTAIN HIGH SCHOOL

As of January 15, 2013, there are 2086 students attending Mountain View High School and 2138 students attending Rocky Mountain High School. Both schools have a capacity of 1800 students. We are recommending that both schools be closed to in-district and out-of-district transfers. The only exceptions would be as follows:

- Students currently attending either high school on an in-district or out-of-district transfer may remain until graduation (as long as transfer requirements continue to be met). Siblings will not be granted a transfer to attend either school.
- A current junior or senior student residing in the attendance boundary of either high school will be granted an in-district or out-of-district transfer to remain until graduation from the current high school if a change of residence results in the student residing outside the attendance boundary of either high school.
A current freshman or sophomore student residing in the attendance boundary of either high school will not be granted an in-district or out-of-district transfer to attend either high school if a change of residence results in the student residing outside the attendance boundary of either high school.
- If a parent/guardian works at either school, an in-district or out-of-district transfer may be approved.

If the reason for requesting a transfer is a safety issue, placement at another high school that is not overcrowded will be afforded (if space allows).

Thank you for your consideration.
