

Work cited

Animals.nationalgeographic.com

www.wikipedia.com

www.outtoafrika.nl

Hippos in the wild (book)

HIPPO

BY JAXON

Characteristics

The hippo is a dark grey herbivore that has huge teeth and is very fat and dangerous. The Species of the hippo is H. amphibious, and it is not a

Adaptations

The hippo has lots of fat to keep it warm during cool weather, and also the hippo can hold its breath under water for a long time to hide from its predators such as lions and other big cats.

Human Interactions

The hippo interacts with humans at zoos but there hippos are trained. If you were to walk up to a hippo in the wild it would most likely attack you. No one should go near a wild hippo to be safer. Hippos are threatened.

ECOSYSTEM

An ecosystem is a place that someone or something lives. The ecosystem of the hippo is Africa. Africa is a dry continent where some of the biggest animals live and is the second biggest continent in the world.